Sir Ken Robinson & Patrick Lencioni Exceptional Talent, Extraordinary Teams

Identifying, developing and retaining top talent will be one of the key differentiators of excellent organisations in the future. Taking those individuals and building them into effective teams is an even more significant challenge. In a rare appearance in the UK, management experts Sir Ken Robinson and Patrick Lencioni will answer these challenges by providing a practical roadmap for harnessing creativity, nurturing talent, creating teams and providing effective leadership.

Sir Ken Robinson

Sir Ken Robinson is an internationally recognised leader in the development of creativity, innovation and human resources and a New York Times best-selling author. He works with Fortune 500 companies, governments in Europe, Asia and the USA, international agencies, and some of the world's leading cultural organisations.

He is the author of several leading books and reports including Out of Our Minds: Learning to be Creative and his latest book The Element: How Finding Your Passion Changes Everything. The Element explores the power that can be generated when passion meets talent and what organisations can do to create an environment where that is possible.

Patrick Lencioni

Patrick Lencioni is founder and president of The Table Group, Inc., a firm dedicated to providing organisations with ideas, products and services that improve teamwork, clarity and employee engagement.

Pat is the author of eight best-selling books with over 2.5 million copies sold and foreign translation into 22 languages. After six years in print, his book The Five Dysfunctions of a Team continues to be a fixture on US national best-seller lists. His recent work, The Three Signs of a Miserable Job (2007), became an instant best-seller in the Wall Street Journal, New York Times and BusinessWeek.
